Rickshaw transport bike

The Chat is a rickshaw on which one driver can transport one or two people in the front of the bike. The passengers are seated in an ergonomic and suspended tub that is fitted with seatbelts. The driver is seated behind them and therefore has a good overview of both the passengers and the road.

As the name suggests, people can comfortably have a chat while out on a cycling tour. The bike is suitable for people that want to go out, while they can be supervised by the driver. With the chat, every ride becomes an event.
